LINDSAY URGES BOARD ACQUIRE WATER RIGHTS

Francis Lindsay, assemblyman from this district, was a surprise visitor to yesterday's meeting of the Nevada county board of supervisors. He urged the board file on surplus water originating in this county and protect the county from later filings by federal bureaus.

Lindsay also wanted to know the board's attitude on a recommendation by the Nevada county grand grand jury the superior court judge, district attorney, and auditor receive salary increases. The assemblyman warned the board no action on a bill could be started unless the board approved the salary raises and that action would have to be executed within two weeks when the county government bill goes into committee. Lindsay said the raises were not out of line with other counties. Lindsay said he took it for granted the approval of the board would immediately follow his receipt of the grand jury's recommendation, and it was irregular the request for the bill was sent him without the recommendation of the board. Lindsay said the legislature cannot approve the salary raises without the approval of the Nevada county board of supervisors.

Lindsay also said the idea of a state park is good and all interior counties should take steps to acquire parks and recreation areas.

Lindsay also said he is co-author of a bill seeking $1,000,000 to be used by counties to repair winter-ravaged roads. He asked the board to place an estimate before the committee which will hear the bill.

Lindsay said a new fish hatchery is expected to be built in Lincoln to serve the needs of this area.

Appearing before the board were Gil Priece, Frank Boundy and Ray Smith who asked the old Deer creek road be made a county road, stating it was almost impassable in places. The board recommended a petition be circulated and presented to the board asking such action. Priece stated a petition bearing 42 signatures had been presented the board in 1946 but no action had been taken. Carl Tobiassen said he would investigate the road in the near future.

Richard Kelsy asked for repairs on the Rattlesnake road, stating it was in terrible shape.

The board officially canvassed the votes for formation of Tahoe forest hospital district and appointed directors. The vote was 441 for, 54 against. Directors are Ted D. Barrett. King Beach; F. B. Sederberg, Tahoe Pines; James Sherritt, Soda Springs; Charles Keller and Ray Scott, Truckee.

The board earmarked $88,000 for the Memorial addition to the county hospital, and transferred $1,200 from the hospital maintenance fund to the salary fund.

GRASS VALLEY STORE GETS RESULTS FROM NUGGET ADVERTISING

Neil Hurlburt, manager of Grass Valley Furniture Store, is a firm believer that advertising in the Nugget pays off. The store, located at the south approach to Grass Valley, has been a consistent advertiser with the local newspaper.

Hurlburt stated he has gotten good results from his advertising with the local newspaper and was completely convinced of it this week when he sold several "Ser vatables" on the basis of an advertisement published in last week's Nugget.

YOUNG WOMAN FOUND DEAD HERE SUNDAY

The body of Mrs. Dolores Eberstein, 36, was found Sunday noon at her home, 539 West Broad street. She had apparently died in her sleep Saturday night.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Holmes Funeral Chapel, the Rev. Max Christensen officiating. Interment will be in Forest View cemetery.

Mrs. Eberstein is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cormier, Grass Valley, and was born May 30, 1912, in Raymond, Wash. She is also survived by a son, Knoll Marshall, and a sister, Mrs. Lucille Irby, both of Nevada City.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Mooers and children, Richard and Margaret, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen attended the funeral services of Corporal Clyde K. Mooers, former Grass Valley youth, in San Bruno Friday. Mooers died during the Bougainville campaign of the Pacific theater of World War II.

"UNLESS YOU ACT, NOTHING WILL BE DONE," GENERAL O'SULLIVAN WARNS IN SPEECH ON N. C. ARMORY

"Unless you act, nothing will be done," was the blunt warning of Major General Curtis D. O'Sullivan, adjutant general of the California National Guard to a group of approximately 200 residents of Nevada City and Grass Valley, speaking on the possibilities of a national guard armory in Nevada county at a dinner in the high school auditorium Thursday evening.

General O'Sullivan was the guest of the chambers of commerce of Nevada City anl Grass Valley, local service clubs and company E, 184th infantry, California national guard. He was accompanied from Sacramento by Lt. Col. John G. Mackay, commanding officer of the second battalion, to which company E is attached. He was greeted and escorted in Nevada City by Captain Harleth M. Brock, commanding officer of company E. Brock was also master of ceremonies at the dinner.

The General was feted at a late afternoon cocktail party at Deer Creek inn, following which an inspection tour of armory sites was conducted. A reception in the high school auditorium preceded the roast beef dinner prepared and cooked by the high school cafeteria class under the supervision of Mrs. Adele Sturtevant. Music was supplied by an orchestra under the direction of Willard Goerz.

John Sbaffi was named to head a committee including Ray Spickelmier, Moscoe Smart and I. C. Bell to promote and obtain an armory for Nevada City. Smart offered a three-acre tract in Nevada City to the national guard as a site for the armory.

The general said the work of the national guard is bogging down for lack of housing. Equipment and supplies available to local units of the guard cannot be issued because of the shortage, he continued. "The obligation of the state to house the guard is not being met. I have done all I can. They know the facts. The security of the nation is at stake."

O'Sullivan urged the people of this area to act in pointing out the need of the armory to their representatives in the legislature. "They will heed you if you act. But unless you act, nothing will be done."

ERNEST TOWLE DIES MONDAY IN WET HILL HOME

Death came yesterday morning at 2 o'clock for Ernest W. Towle, 77, Wet Hill, native of Nevada City. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m., at Holmes Funeral Chapel, the Rev. Dahlgren Casey, officiating at religious rites. Oustamah lodge 16, I.O.O.F., will conduct the rites for the dead. Cary Arbogast, chaplain, and Jonathan Pascoe, will officiate. Interment will be in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Towle was born Feb. 29, 1872, near the reservoir on Sugar Loaf hill, and was educated in Nevada City schools.

He followed the trade of a stationary engineer all his life. He had retired for many years. Towle traveled a lot following his trade and had roamed as far as the South Seas but Nevada City was always his home and he was never gone for long.

Towle was very active for 52 years in the Oustamah lodge of the I.O.O.F., and was a past noble grand. He also served as chief patriarch of Odd Fellows Encampment.

He and Lina Mack Kinzey were married on Sept. 27, 1927. There were no children.

Towle is survived, in addition to his wife, by two brothers, Carol W. Towle, Willits, and Leslie H. Towle, San Francisco.

NEVADA CITY TO GET $2,285 SLICE OF LIQUOR LICENSE FEES

Liquor license fee revenues amounting to $2,353,170, representing earnings of the half-year period from July 1, 1948, to Dec. 31, 1948, are soon to be distributed between the cities and counties of the state. This is the 26th such allocation.

In making this announcement, Jerrold L. Seawell, member of the board of equalization from the third equalization district, explained that this sum is 100 per cent of the license fees earned for that six-months period.

Seawell further explained, "This sum of money is made available to the local government for liquor law enforcement and regulation so that local control may be exercised to the fullest extent that local communities desire local control and enforcement."

Of this current allocation of $2,353,170, Nevada county will have returned to its unincorporated area $4,947.50, and to Nevada City, the amount of $2,285.

Rose Here Tonight On Official Visit to Odd Fellows Lodge Meeting

District Deputy Grand Master Henry Rose, Auburn, will make his official visit to Oustamah lodge No. 16, I. O. O. F., tonight, according to George Halstead, noble grand.

The lodge will confer first degree to Forrest McClelland.

Refreshments will follow the lodge meeting.

High School Plays Placer Here May 5

Nevada City high school's Yellowjackets will play the Placer high school baseball team Thursday afternoon at Pioneer park.

The Yellowjackets baseball team with John Cartoscelli on the mound, battled the San Juan Spartans on even terms throughout six innings Friday at Pioneer park, but faded in the final frame to lose, 8-3.

REAL ESTATE BOARD CALLS NEW GAS RATE GROSSLY EXCESSIVE

Nevada County Real Estate Board charged the new increased gas rates of the Pacific Gas & Electric company as being "grossly excessive" at its regular monthly meeting in Deer Creek inn here.

A committee was appointed to promote a re-hearing of the increase.

William Stinson, president of the board, presided at the meeting.

Donner Legion Post Asks Memorial Hall

A delegation of eight members of Donner Summit American Legion post appeared before the board of supervisors here yesterday afternoon and asked for a Memorial hall to be constructed near the summit. William Rutherford, was spokesman for the delegation, which represented 52 members of the post.

Rutherford said the post has the land available. The board tabled the request for consideration and possible incorporation in next year's budget.

ELKS SHOW SET FOR SATURDAY, NIGHT, MAY 7

Director Frank Stewart is busy the early part of this week with rehearsals and polishing the script and scenes of the Elks lodge baseball uniform benefit show set for Saturday evening in the Elks hall.

The evening's festivities will start with a baked ham dinner at 7 o'clock with the show scheduled to start at 9 o'clock.

Featured performers of the show are Madame Sophie Sophsnitch, an opera singer from San Francisco; Ivan Godnogutz, a Los Angeles impressario who is a wizard at extracting soothing sounds from the stringed gut of a cat; Dixie Lee Mauch, a dancer, and Ernie Young, acrobatic dancer who will stage a burlesque of Miss Mauch's performance.

George and Bill Campbell are arranging lights and scenery.

Stewart said this morning others who will perform in the show are George Hanson, Dr. C. N. Kerrin, Chet Murchel, Lucy Murchel, Frank Cartoscelli, Bill Gibson, Alan Clapp, Moscoe Smart, Bob Peterson, Dick Prine, Chuck Hilpert, George Campbell, and the Lionetes, Audrey Kerrin, Virginia Clapp, Bernice Gibson, Rose French and Dee Montonari.

Dancing will follow after the conclusion of the show, with Al Schweigert and his orchestra furnishing the music.

MYSTERY CONTEST IS BEING HELD THIS WEEK BY FURNITURE CENTER

The Furniture Center, Grass Valley, this week is conducting a mystery contest with 7-way floor lamps as prizes. The contest is a guessing test of the price of a bedroom set which is displayed in the store's south window on Auburn street. Bill Rogers, manager of the store, said as many lamps will be given to as many who make correct guesses.

Rogers said a sealed box will be placed just inside the door of the main entrance of the store and estimates are to be placed in the box. Saturday, May 7, at 3 p.m., the box will be opened and the winners will be presented the lamps. Winners must be present at the time.

HITTING THE JACKPOT

DE MARTINI IS NEW OWNER OF HARRIS DRUG

James de Martini, for the past 18 months a pharmacist at the Harris drug store here, purchased the pharmacy yesterday from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott, who have operated the store since August 1, 1947.

De Martini is a Grass Valley resident, is married and has three children. His wife's name is Thelma. They plan to move to Nevada City.

Elliott was a pharmacist for R. E. Harris for 20 years and purchased the business from the widow. Elliott was son-in-law of Harris. The business had been in the family for 23 years. Previous to that it had been operated by R. J. Bennetts for approximately 32 years.

The Elliotts, Charles and Genevieve, have no definite plans for the future but expect to remain in Nevada City for the present. They are active in Eastern Star.

Frank G. Finnegan, local attorney, is handling the legal papers.

DR. PADGETT WARNS AGAINST ITINERANT CESS POOL PUMPERS

Dr. Vernon Padgett, Nevada county health officer, today issued a warning that all persons now engaged or who plan to engage in the business of pumping septic tanks, cesspools and seepage pits in Nevada county, must be registered with the county health department before they can pump in the county. This ruling complies with chapter six of the California health and safety code.

The primary purpose of the ruling is to control and prevent dumping of sewage in non-approved areas and to eliminate the so-called "fly by night" pumpers who make a practice of touring the area, usually in the spring and continuing on through the summer months. These persons often not only charge excessive fees but seldom do satisfactory work.

Padgett said there are permanently located operators in the county who can be relied upon to do good work at reasonable rates. He urges householders inquire for registration papers of the cess pool pumper before permitting him to work.

Applications for registration may be obtained at Dr. Padgett's office in Grass Valley.

COUNTY BUDGET FOR AGED AND BLIND IS $495,621 THIS YEAR

Nevada county's $495,621 budget for payments of aged and blind aid for the current, 1948-49, fiscal year, included $39,339 from county tax sources, $231,427 from federal contributions, and $224,855 from state payments, California Taxpayers' association said today, pointing to the relatively small portion of the cost that fell on local property for aid to the aged and blind prior to the adoption of Proposition No. 4. Proposition No. 4 transferred the county share of the cost of these two aids to the state.

Of the $495,621 total budgeted for payments of aid to the needy aged and blind in the county, $472,113 was for aid to the aged and $23,508 for aid to blind, the taxpayers' association said.

Over the state as a whole, $149,753,804 was budgeted by California counties for payments of aid to the needy aged and blind for 1948-49, the Taxpayers' association found. Of this amount, $12,731,721 was budgeted from oounty taxes, $66,009,704 was to come from the federal government, and $71,012,380 was from the state treasury.

Adoption of Proposition No. 4, with its loosening of eligibility requirements and its increase in payments to the aged and blind, upped state costs for the first six months of operation by an estimated $28,000,000. This was only partially offset by an estimated $8,000,00 reduction in county costs.

CHAMBER FILES PROTEST OVER PHONE RATES

Nevada City chamber of commerce Saturday filed a protest against the 100 per cent increase in the long distance telephone toll between Nevada City and Grass Valley, inaugurated April 1 by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company.

The local civic organization forwarded a telegram to the public utilities commission in Sacramento protesting the hike.

The chamber's telegram.

"Nevada City chamber of commerce desires to protest against the excessive rate inaugurated between Nevada City and Grass Valley. Former rate of five cents is out of reason owing to the fact that only four miles separate the two towns."—Chamber of Commerce, Sofge.

Board of directors of the Nevada City chamber of commerce will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the chamber's chambers in city hall.

Increased rates of utilities will be the principal matter of business, according to H. F. "Si" Sofge, secretary.

MARY JACKSON NATIVE OF CITY LAID TO REST

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the chapel of Holmes Funeral Home for Mrs. Mary Virginia Jackson, 81, native of Nevada City. Mrs. Jackson died Thursday afternoon at the home of her son, J. J. Jackson, 126 Boulder street.

The Rev. Father William Daly, pastor of St. Canice Catholic church, officiated at the last rites. Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Elmer Bosworth sang "Lead Kindly Light," and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." She was accompanied on the organ by Dorothy Kitts.

Pallbearers were Carl Foote, Tom Richards, Ernest Schreiber, Tom Reynolds, Max Solaro and George Sandow.

Surviving, in addition to J. J. Jackson, are a daughter, Mrs. Grace Englebright; and grandsons, James Pierce Jackson, and Harry J. Englebright. She was the last surviving of the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Hurst, pioneer operators of the Star bakery in the early days of the gold rush.

Mary Virginia Hurst was born here Dec. 11, 1867. She was married Aug. 26, 1896, to J. J. Jackson, in San Francisco. He preceded her in death 23 years.

During the last several years she had lived with her son and his wife, Thelma, who had taken care of her. Although a weak heart had confined her to her room much of recent years, Mrs. Jackson enjoyed visiting with the many callers.

Mrs. Jackson lived all but a short time of her life in Nevada City. She lived for a short while in San Francisco.

She was an honorary life member of Ponemah council No. 6, Degree of Pocahontas, and had been a member of the Native Daughters of the Golden West and Neva Rebekah lodge.

BOSTON MERCANTILE STORE SELLS STOCK TO SOUTHLAND FIRM

The Boston Mercantile store, operated by Mrs. May Jacobs, yesterday sold its stock of merchandise to the Eastern Jobbing House, Los Angeles, and has closed the store. The merchandise is being removed to Los Angeles. Fixtures were not included in the sale. Selling price was $4,500.

CARL NETZ IN FAIR OAKS DRILLING TEST

Carl Netz of Nevada City has accepted the challenge for the free for all drilling contest to be held at the Fair Oaks centennial celebration May 20, 21 and 22. Teams will represent McClellan field, Rocklin and Fair Oaks.

Anyone interested in doing some brushing up on the old art can get the necessary equipment and tool sharpening facilities by contacting Carl Netz at the Monumental works here.

There will be other contests such as gold panning and possibly mucking.

DOES HUMAN NATURE CHANGE?

Does human nature change?

Apparently not.

The question is called to mind by a little item in today's 75 years ago column of Margaret-Floy Reynolds in another part of this page. A writer on the staff of the Transcript observed young boys on the street corner (wonder if it was the same corner the Bank of America now occupies?) smoking cigars (the little varmints.).

Evidently smoking cigars was alright, but the repercussions possible from that first inhalation of nicotine were too dreadful for the Transcript writer to contemplate. Perhaps he saw the degeneration of an upright youth down the path of an occasional "gol darn", the smoking of that newfangled thing called a cigaret, attempting to fill that inside straight, a whistler at shapely women, or an ogler in a stall in the opera house, until the day arrived when the upright youth had lined his face with the debaucheries of hard words, liquor and women.

Apparently there were those who lived in 1874 who thought, as some do today, the world was going to hell in a hurry.

But evidently the world did not go the way the long-faces thought. If the youths who transgressed the virtues by drawing on the soothing virus of the Havana weed did go down the path of perdition, it matters not a bit today. The world is still with us—as beautiful and as ugly as it was in 1874.

The old files of newspapers have always fascinated us and we have often perused the back issues of various newspapers of olden days. Each verusal bring back anew the realization that human nature has not changed since the dawn of time. Each person has his share of good and evil. Each in his way appreciates beauty, has a capacity for love, can be sadistically cruel, unjustly angry, and sincerely remorseful. Styles of journalism change, but the underlying fundamentals of human nature are revealed in pages of a newspaper's recording of the passing of time.

We hear of the good old days when everything was beautiful and everyone was good, or so it appears through the dimming years of retrospect.

It is not so. Let us lok at one year two generations ago in the past of Nevada City.

A young adolescent dies in abortion. The apparently happy wife leaves her husband and elopes with the best friend. A professional man is granted a divorce because his wife doesn't keep house, smokes cigarettes, and beats her step-children. A jealous wife attempts suicide because her husband bowed too gallantly to the ladies.

A BOUQUET

Today we offer a bouquet to the postoffice of Nevada City.

William Wasley's crew of carriers and clerks are the most accommodating and courteous of any government office we have had occasion to contact in many years.

Too often a governmental department forgets it is the servant of the people and takes the attitude people are the servants of the government.

But not the Nevada City post office.

We appreciate their friendliness and helpfulness.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

This week the Nevada City Women's Civic club is sponsoring Clean-Up Week. Let's cooperate with the women and clean-up the yards and the city. Let's make this city and attractive place for the coming summer season of tourists. Let's have people recall Nevada City with the thought "Oh, that's the clean and beautiful little picturesque foothill city."

The current week is a raft of weeks in American commercialism. In addition to being Nevada City clean-up week, it is American Camp Week, National Baby Week, National Noise Abatement Week, National Family Week, Be Kind to Animals Week, National Restaurant Week, National and Inter-American Music Week, and National Cutlery Week. Whew!

A blundering fool often does more damage than an intentional criminal.

Opinions are like clothes in a closet . . . they should often be examined in sunshine to see if they have become moth-eaten.

America is a land of free speech, providing your boss or wife aren't listening.

A self-made man often needs repair work.

Just Wonderin'

I Wonder if the forest trees
Are shaking in their roots,
And if the solemn, big horned owl
An eerie warning hoots;
And if that bird could utter speech
And voice his heart's desire,
Would he exclaim right hootingly,
"Don't start a forest fire?"

I Wonder if you and I will spend our vacations in the rustling shade of California forests. Will it be our privilege to revel in the beauty of our golden west, listen to the carols of feathered choirs, watch the amusing antics of woodland creatures, inhale the spicy odors of pine, cedar and mountain laurel, and gather inspiration, courage and fortitude for the tasks and problems awaiting our return to the work a day world?

I Wonder if we will leave our peacefule sylvan retreats as we find them; or will some heedless act of ours reduce them to ghastly ruins, snuff out the lives of their happy denizens, destroy the homes of men and endanger the lives of those who will be called upon to combat and conquer the demon our hands have wantonly unleashed.

The rules are simple and easily followed; extinguish matches and cigarettes before tossing them aside, cover the camp fire and in every way possible, heed the plea of the defenseless forest, "Help prevent a forest fire!"

Let heart and mind constrain us yet
"Lest we forget—lest we forget."

Nature calls at this season of the year and the open highways invite. Men begin dreaming of trout streams and parti colored flies; the ladies, bless 'em, have visions of sunny care free days in shady nooks with enchanting books to read or a bit of fancy work to be finished; there will be walks through the green forests followed by dips in mountain streams or lakes and always the realization of these dreams is more wonderful than the visions themselves.

Yes, the forests invite and nature is a gracious hostess; all that she asks in return for her lavish benefits, is that the guest exercise due caution and make every effort of which he is capable, to preserve the chosen resort in its original charm and beauty. There is no excuse for carelessness; the awful waste caused annually by the careless habits of men, women and youngsters is more than inexcusable, it is criminal.

The rules of the forest are simple,
It were folly indeed to forget;
Guard all fires, break your match,
Crush the lingering sparks
From the stub of your cigarette.

And now, right at home, burn all trash, clean out attics and basements, have chimneys cleaned—give the fireman a break.

Nevada County Long Ago

Floy-Margaret Reynolds

20 YEARS AGO

Fred Searls, Sr., member of a pioner family and a native of Nevada City, passed away in San Francisco. Mr. Searls was the son of the late Judge and Mrs. Niles Searls. In 1876 he graduated from the University of California and entered the law office of his father and his uncle, Judge A. C. Niles, in the brick building built by his father in the middle eighties opposite the courthouse. He was admitted to the bar in 1879 and in 1885 married Miss Helen Pond. The children of the couple were Robert, Niles, Henry, Carrol, Fred and Helen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Meservey received their many friends at their home at Town Talk in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. The couple were married in Nevada City on May 7, 1879. Mr. Meservey was a native of Maine. Mrs. Meservey was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Stenger of Nevada City.

50 YEARS AGO

A party of ladies departed for England to visit their old homes. They were Mrs. John Delbridge of Nevada City, Mrs. Northway and Mrs. Rosevear of Grass Valley and Mrs. Murley of Gold Flat. Mrs. William Young of Nevada City accompanied them as far as her father's home in Newcastle, Pa. The ladies planned to return in the fall.

Richard Sandow of Cornwall, England, arrived at the home of his uncle, Richard Sandow, of Piety Hill in Nevada City.

Lim Yun, the first sluice robber killed in Nevada county in many years, was shot by Thomas Hall while stealing amalgam from the tail flume of Hall and French's hydraulic mine near French Corral.

An attempt was being made to correct a mistake of twenty years before when a beneficiary of the will of William Whitesides, deceased, had been awarded a wrong piece of land in Grass Valley. A petition was filed in the Superior Court to have the decree corrected.

John Langman returned to his home in Nevada City from Summersville, Contra Costa county, where he had been employed in a coal mine for six months.

75 YEARS AGO

Peter Purdon was busily engaged in repairing his toll road between Nevada City and North San Juan.

The Transcript commented "It is a common sight (evenings) to see young boys standing around street corners in Nevada City smoking cigars. In the first place, parents have no right to allow them to be on the streets after dark. If allowed so to do, it may be expected such vices will be acquired.

The following was the roll of honor in the Oakland (Gold Flat) school: Lizzie Richards, Walter Waters, Katie Richards, Allie Barr, Fred Gillespie, Katie O'Donnel, Mary Denler, Mary Riebold, Maggie Stenger, Thomas Grimes, Ida Maltman, Nora Barnes, Bessie Gillispie, Lavinia Hicks, Elvira Hamilton, Ello McLean, Mary O'Donnel, Christina Riebold, Gussie Wentworth, George Allan, Frank Barr, Charles Davis, Robert McLean, James O'Donnel and Harry Lynd.

Work of Local Artists On Display in Auburn

Today is the final showing of the Auburn art show, at which the work of four Nevada City artists is being displayed. The show is at Placer college and is under the auspices of the Auburn chapter, American Association of University Women.

Local exhibitors are:

George Mathis, whose gold country sketches have become well known throughout northern California, is displaying two gold country lithographs and an oil portrait.

Robert Gilberg, another talented artist, formerly of Oakland, has entered three watercolor landscapes. Gilberg recently won recognition at the annual Albany art show with outstanding pen and ink drawings.

Three oil paintings have been entered in the Auburn show by Mrs. Marian Kronfeld, another whose work has received recognition in California exhibits and shows.

Mrs. Emma Peart, a native of Nevada City, who has done some outstanding work with her animal portraits, has entered three pastel portraits of dogs—a boxer, cocker spaniel, and a German police.

Kief Melberg Talks To Soroptimist Club

Kief D. Melberg, Nevada county welfare officer, was the speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the Nevada City Soroptimist club in the dining room of the National hotel Wednesday.

In an interesting talk, the welfare officer told of the manifold duties of the office under the present state administration. He was introduced by Mrs. Virginia Hilliard, president of the club.

Guest of the club was Mrs. Edna Saygrover, probation officer of Shasta county, who spoke briefly on the case work involved in that office.

WEAK BATTING AND SHORT RIGHT FIELD BRING DEFEAT TO NEVADA CITY BASEBALL TEAM AT LINCOLN

Weakness at the bat spelled defeat for the Nevada City baseball team as it lost a 12-0 decision to a heavy hitting Lincoln squad last Sunday in Lincoln Three hits were all the local batters could get from Culver, Lincoln hurler, while the Placer county team combed Perry's offerings for 11 hits and added three more off Radley

Eight doubles were dumped into the short right field of the Lincoln diamond, six of them by the home team. Schroeder's boot in the first inning was the only error of the game.

Lincoln scored four runs in the first inning off four hits, a walk and the error. Six more scores came in the third off five hits and two walks.

Lincoln's final two were added off Radley on three hits and a walk in the eighth inning.

The rest of the game was shutout ball.

Manager Marvin Haddy said this morning Nevada City boys played good ball, but the Lincoln players ability to drop fly balls over the short right fence proved the undoing of the team.

AINSLEY FOUYER IS HOME AFTER RELEASE FROM STOCKTON PORTS

Ainsley Fouyer, catcher for Nevada City in past years, returned to Nevada City yesterday from Stockton where he had been signed by the Ports professional baseball team of the California league. The Ports optioned him to Phoenix, Ariz., but Fouyer declined to go that far from home.

Fouyer weighed the uncertainties of a professional baseball career, and particularly at his age, and decided to give up professional baseball.

Fouyer has signed with the Nevada City entry of the Placer-Nevada league and may see action in Sunday's game here with Grass Valley.

LOCAL BASEBALL TEAM GETS PAT ON BACK FROM BARTLETT FAN

Nevada City's nameless baseball team received a nice pat on the back from "Doc" Hosking, Placerville Bartlett fan, in the following letter to Allen G. "Scoop" Thurman, secretary of the Placer-Nevada league:

Placerville, April 25, 1949

Dear Scoop:

Don't sell this Nevada City team short, Scoop, because they're going to win quite a few ball games. They have improved over 500 per cent this season.

They played a fine game against us yesterday. After trailing for 8 innings by a score of 2 to 1, they tied us up in the 8th inning and came along in the 10th to win by a score of 3 to 2.

Nevada City has a good chucker and a good team to back him up and he will make plenty of the boys think there is a hole in their bat before the season is over, and he will also give them plenty of putouts at first base if they get too far off the bag. He also has an out drop which will fool many of them. I have never seen him before but he is plenty good for this circuit.

We had a lovely day for a ball game and a very large turnout of fans and it was a very fine game.

Good luck to Nevada City. They are not a "push-over" this year, believe me.

Yours for better ball games.,
DOC HOSKING,
Former Bartletts director.

STOP FOR SIREN

When you hear the siren of an emergency vehicle, pull to the right side of the road away from an intersection, come to a full stop and wait until the vehicle has passed, as required by the vehicle code, advises the California State Automobile association.

OBEY THE RULES

Careful observance of safe driving rules is the best safeguard against a traffic accident, points out the California State Automobile association, which urges motorists to obey traffic laws and to consider the rights of other highway users.
